

Yoga for Wellbeing

Leisure and Professional

In Yoga For Wellbeing, we will explore a range of somatic and yoga sequences that help us release tension, rebalance our nervous system, reconnect with our body, and breathe better.

This class will mobilise and release all of the major joint areas of the body. We will practise strengthening sequences and take the spine through its full range of movements.

The tutor will offer guided meditations, yoga nidr, and breathing exercises at the beginning and end of each class. This is great for people who experience stress and need to relax and reset.
