

Principles of Dementia Care Certificate (Online)

Adult

Employer Training

Dementia is one of the main causes of disability in later life, and cases are rising – by 2051, it's expected that two million people in the UK will have dementia. If you work with people with dementia, it's important that you understand the condition and know how to provide the best possible care for each individual. In our level 2 Principles of Dementia Care course, you will learn all about approaches to dementia care. You'll gain insight into how dementia affects the way people behave and interact, as well as how best to communicate with people who have dementia.
