

Performing Arts Diploma in Partnership with Studio 4

16-19

UAL Level 3 Diploma and Extended Diploma in Performing and Production Arts.

A full-time vocational course designed to prepare performers for the performing arts industry, dance conservatoires and universities. It offers an extended diploma qualification (equivalent to 3 A-levels) in partnership with Studio 4.

The course will provide students with the knowledge, skills, and connections to progress successfully at degree level study or employment in the performing arts industry. The course will be for two years and learners will train at Cornwall College with large dance studios and the Keay Theatre and Studio 4's new Creative Centre, fully equipped with sprung floors, mirrors and a wonderful new performance space. Our course provides young performers with the opportunity to access high-quality training with industry professionals and for their talents to be challenged, progressed and nurtured.

Our talented teaching team of outstanding working professionals will provide the best professional training possible for every learner on our course. Daily Technique classes will include: Ballet, Technical Jazz, Tap, Musical Theatre, Acting, Singing, Commercial, Contemporary and Street Dance. Specialist classes include: Audition Prep, industry masterclasses and talks, Gymnastics and Fitness. Alongside projects that will develop project management, performance, and teaching skills. Our UAL course will provide regular performance opportunities locally and nationally!

Our Patrons who are all very much at the forefront of their careers; Kayla Lomas, Olivia Higham, Josh Wharmby, Tom Davis Dunn, Jake Moyle and Ben Christopher Harris will visit regularly and provide feedback and guidance for every single learner.

Our Alumni are now spreading their wings at: Wilkes Academy, London Studios Centre, Performers college, Plymouth university, University of East London, Shockout and some of their performance credits/work include: X Factor, The Brit Awards, East London Dance, various pantomimes.
